The Corcoran Art Gallery,

Washington, D. C.,

Gentlemen:

As customs agents for Mr. E. Hawley, of the Southern Pacific Company, we to-day received bill of lading for one case Paintings, with instructions to forward same to you. We thought it better to wire you, as the value was so great, which we did as follows: "Have painting value Fcs. 60,000. arrived 'Bretagne'. Telegraph if we ship bond express or rail, also what value we declare", which we beg to confirm; and in due course received your reply, reading "Ship the painting in bond by Penna. Railroad to Georgetown D. C. Value Fcs. 60,000." We are preparing the papers so as to forward the painting in this manner. We would, however, call your attention to the fact that it is supposed that we can declare any value that we see fit on the railway; and the freight on same is 2-1/2% of the declared value, and double first class. Generally, in shipping paintings we either send them by express, or declare a small value, and cover insurance for the balance, and we thought perhaps you wanted to take the benefit of this system which has to be done before the goods are shipped.

Yours faithfully,

Mr. F. S. Barbarin,

Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington,

Dear Sir:

Confirming our respects of yesterday, we are to-day in receipt of your telegram reading - "If not too late, do as you suggest: declare a small value and cover insurance for balance"; and in accordance with your instructions, we have sent word over to the shipping dock to have receipts changed accordingly. We have instructed our shipping clerk to declare a value of $1,000. and have ordered insurance for the balance, which we trust will be satisfactory.

Yours faithfully,

To the Secretary "Corcoran Art Gallery".
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir,

I would like to submit to the Trustees of the "Corcoran Art Gallery" an exquisite oil painting by the distinguished English Artist Phil R. Morris, A.R.S. entitled "Eve's Second Paradise". It is a four by three (about) canvas and is the perfection of charm in flesh tints for which Morris is so celebrated. I am compelled to dispose of the picture, and as its loveliness is dear to me I would like of all things that

Washington as my old home should gain through my loss.
I forward by today's mail a photograph of the picture which will give you an idea of the handling of the subject, though its loveliness is only shadowed forth.

If you will kindly submit the same to the Trustees you will greatly oblige,

Very Truly
